Reviewing a Web Page

Published on 06/05/2018

URL Capture Rendering

When the designer includes a web page for review, inMotion captures an image of the website for review. In the review environment, the web capture will perform similarly to a static image and text tools will not be available for annotation.

Viewing the live URL

The asset name will contain a hyperlink of the web page you've been asked to review. Selecting the asset name will open the website in a new tab of your browser. From here, you can test hyperlinks and view any animated content.